Dear WISE Members,

We have a lot of exciting news about the various activities and projects that WISE has been working on over the last month. More and more people are joining WISE and volunteering to help in the great quest to do research on scientific anomalies and to develop technologies and services from that research that will be useful to people.

In the past month we have established an WISE Speakers Bureau and Booking Office for the benefit all members, so that there will be a central place where potential clients can go for speakers, consultants, trainers, and others providing services of any kind in the scientific anomalies and paranormal fields. In addition, WISE has also developed an attractive online WISE promotional handout so that members worldwide can provide these handouts at the anomalies meetings they attend, as well as, enable those members to earn money as a result of doing so.

Also in the past month, WISE has appointed Dr. Julie Beischel and Dr. Gary Johnson to head WISE Divisions, and Dr. Albert So has held the second monthly meeting of the Hong Kong Regional Branch of WISE. Moreover, Dr. So, Dr. Surel, and others are collaborating on a research proposal by Dr. So to develop a new Chinese medicine technology.

Dr. Richard Blasband reports on the use of cloudbusting technology to help alleviate drought in Montana. Then Dr. Reed provides an update on the new online scientific journals that will soon be available for WISE members to publish their research, hypotheses, theories, and other articles.

Finally, there are several advertisements you may find of interest, including one about the WISE "Anomalies Literature and Papers Preservation Program (ALPPP)" and the WISE "Smithsonian Secret Warehouse Project (SSWP)." Advertisements are usually not very interesting, but these are, and may earn you some extra money as well.

Wishing you wonderful Spring days,

WISE Speakers Bureau and Booking Office

Inspired by Dr. Peter Sturrock's suggestion several years ago, the Institute for Scientific Exploration (WISE) has established a Speakers Bureau and Professional Services Booking Office (SBPSBO) for the benefit of all WISE members.

At the present time, there is no central speakers bureau or booking office in the US or anywhere else in the world dedicated to speakers or experts on scientific anomalies, parapsychology, and other paranormal subjects. Moreover, there is no central booking office dedicated to people who can provide remote viewing, psychic investigation, or other paranormal or anomalies investigatory services. And finally, there is no booking office for people who can provide training and education to others in these same subject areas. It is for these reasons that WISE has established the first and only speakers bureau and booking office to cover all paranormal and scientific anomalies subject areas.

WISE and SSE are filled with members who have a wealth of expertwise and talent in speaking on the various paranormal subjects and scientific anomalies. In addition, there are many who can provide direct services to clients and/or who can provide training to others to enhance their abilities. WISE, therefore, welcomes and encourages any and all WISE and SSE members who would like to make their talents and services available, to sign up with the WISE Speakers Bureau and Professional Services Booking Office.

Please send for you application form at: iseresearch51@gmail.com and once your application has been processed, we will post your name and the services you provide on the WISE website, so the world can see what you have to offer. Then when anyone contacts us seeking someone with your talents, we will get in touch with you, and help make the arrangements for your booking.

WISE Promotional Handout Available Online

Phil Catalano and Margaret Nies have designed and developed an attractive WISE promotional handout, which is available online as a Word document at:

<http://instituteforscientificexploration.org/wp-content/uploads/2012/05/April.doc>. All WISE and SSE members can print it out in quantity and make it available at the various meetings and conferences they attend in the US and around the world. Usually there are tables near the entrance to these meetings and conferences where people and organizations can place their promotional materials.

The great thing about this handout is that, being a Word document, you can add your name, email address, and other contact information to the bottom and earn $20.00 for every person that joins WISE as a result of your handout. You can print out and distribute as many handouts as you want, and when anyone applies to become a member of WISE, they are required to put the name of the recruiting person on their application form. So if five people join WISE as a result of your handout, you will be paid $100.00, etc. And the more WISE handouts you WISE website: <http://instituteforscientificexploration.org> WISE email address: iseresearch51@gmail.com distribute, the more money you will be able to make, and the more you will be helping promote research on scientific anomalies. Moreover, you need not limit your distribution of the handouts to the various anomalies meetings you attend. You can attach the handout to emails you send to people interested in anomalies, put the handout on your blog or webpage(s), put the handout on your Facebook, LinkedIn, and other social networking websites, or place and distribute the handout in numerous other places on and off the internet. WISE wants to thank all of you for helping to promote research on scientific anomalies and for helping to get more and more people involved in this very exciting area of research and development.

Dr. Julie Beischel Appointed to WISE Departments

Survival & Life After Death Department and Spirit Communication Research Department

We are happy to announce that Dr. Julie Beischel, founder of the Windbridge Institute, has accepted an appointment to head two WISE Research departments: Survival and Life After Death Research Department, and the Spirits and Spirit Communication Research Department. Dr. Beischel brings with her over ten years of research experience in the areas of mediumship and survival of consciousness.

Dr. Beischel received her doctorate in Pharmacology and Toxicology with a minor in Microbiology and Immunology from the University of Arizona in 2003 where she later served as the William James Post-doctoral Fellow in Mediumship and Survival Research and Co-Director of the VERITAS Research Program until that program closed at the end of 2007.

At that time, she and her husband Mark Boccuzzi founded the Windbridge Institute for Applied Research in Human Potential in order to continue performing important research on phenomena including the continuation of consciousness after death and the experiences of and information reported by psychic mediums. The Windbridge Institute, where she serves as Director of Research, is currently based in Tucson, Arizona, but the Windbridge research participants are located all over the country. More information about the Windbridge Institute is available at: www.windbridge.org

Dr. Beischel is a full member of the Society for Scientific Exploration (SSE) and the Parapsychological Association (PA) and serves on the scientific advisory boards of the Rhine Research Center (RRC), the Forever Family Foundation (FFF), and Association for Evaluation and Communication of Evidence for Survival (AECES). Her research has been presented at scientific meetings of the SSE, the PA, the RRC, the FFF, the Society for the Anthropology of Consciousness, and the International Society for the Study of Subtle Energies and Energy Medicine (ISSSEEM) as well as the Toward a Science of Consciousness and Alternative Expressions of the Numinous conferences. Her work has been published in peer-reviewed journals including Explore: The Journal of Science and Healing, Journal of Parapsychology, Journal of Scientific Exploration, Transpersonal Psychology Review, and Australian Journal of Parapsychology where she also serves as a Specialist Consultant.

Dr. Gary Johnson Appointed Director of the WISE Energy and Fuels Division

We are happy to announce that Dr. Gary L. Johnson has been appointed as the Director of the Energy and Fuels Division of WISE. Dr. Johnson holds Ph.D. and masters degrees in electrical engineering from Kansas State University, and a bachelor degree in electrical engineering from Oklahoma State University. He is currently Professor Emeritus with the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering at Kansas State, where he has served for more than 30 years.

Dr. Johnson has strong interests in hydrogen fuel, Tesla physics and engineering, wind energy systems, and other advanced energy concepts, and has written extensively on these subjects. He is a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE), American Wind Energy Association, and several other organizations, including the Society for Scientific Exploration (SSE). With his experience, enthusiasm, and dedication to innovative energy systems, Dr. Johnson will be a very valuable addition to WISE, and we welcome him.

Second WISE Hong Kong Branch Meeting

On Saturday March 17 the second local Hong Kong local WISE meeting took place hosted by local Chairman Dr. Albert So. Dr. Julie Beischel, founder of the Windbridge Institute of Arizona, presented her research findings about the Survival of Consciousness. A Skype conference call was organized and also attended on the US side by Dr. John Reed and Dr. Dominique Surel. The topic addressed the research design and rigorous methodology that the Windbridge created and has been conducting on mediumship. After clarifying some of the technical terms Dr. Beishchel continued to relate some of the conclusions of the research that demonstrate significant comfort for the survivors in terms of dealing with grief. The attendees were fascinated by the results of the rigorous methodology and although the discussion could have continued for a few more hours – as the saying goes, all good things must come to an end!

Dr. So is heading a very dynamic local group in Hong Kong and recruiting more members. The cultural interactions during these presentations add another dimension to the discussions and the knowledge acquired.

NEW CHINESE MEDICINE TECHNOLOGY PROPOSAL

What if an operator in New York City could take the four human energy pulses to include the T (tactile) pulse from a person's wrist and immediately send it via the internet to a specialized physician in China? Since true Chinese physicians in the US are rare, very few American patients can obtain accurate Chinese energy medicine diagnoses and benefit from a comprehensive Chinese medical treatment. Although the first three energy pulses (VVA) could be accomplished through modified state-of-the-art technologies, up to now, there is nothing available in the world to fulfill the last one, the T energy. Dr. So, with the help of two famous physicians in Hong Kong is seeking funding (total of $90,000) to build a prototype of such an instrument and make final revisions for manufacturing. If

Co-Investigator

Dr. Dominique Surel, PhD, MBA, Vice President of Institute for Scientific Exploration; Professor Energy Medicine University, USA; Council Member, Society for Scientific Exploration.

Amount applied for

US $80,000 for research and US$10,000 for institutional overhead

Total: US $90,000

In one go (not including cost for patent application)

Duration of Research

Prototype available in 8 months after receipt of full grant, plus 2 months of testing between Seattle and Hong Kong.

Summary of Proposal

Background

Chinese herbal medicine has been practiced for some three millennia and is the major aspect of traditional Chinese medicine, focusing on the restoration of a balance of “Qi”, body energy, body and spirit, to maintain the health of a human being. Since it is based on the prescription of natural herbs, side effects to the patient are minimal. Most importantly, the prescription very much depends on the body characteristics of each individual. In other words, two patients suffering the same disease may get two different prescriptions because the main concept is to strengthen the immune system of that specific individual and his/her resistance to diseases, instead of directly attacking the bacteria or viruses that cause the disease. Hence, the competence of the physician who is consulted and diagnoses the disease and gives the prescription, is of utmost importance.

In North America, the number of people who are accepting or even appreciating Chinese herbal medicine is growing rapidly. Although there is an adequate supply of such dry herbs that are turned into medicinal drugs in North America, there is a serious lack of competent and true

Chinese medicine physicians. However the supply of these physicians in Hong Kong and southern part of China Mainland, and in the Guangdong province for example, is ample.

The Purpose

WISE website: <http://instituteforscientificexploration.org>      WISE email address: iseresearch51@gmail.com

WISE International HQ: 4401 Roland Ave., Suite 405, Baltimore, MD 21210

This research proposal is drafted with the aim of linking up the two regions in order to provide true Chinese medicine services to people in both North America and Europe in the future. The outcome of this proposal has two facets: to bring the benefits of true Chinese medicine to people in this part of the world and to create a potentially a big business.

The Technology

According to traditional practice, there are four procedures during a consultation session: V(ocal), V(isual), A(uditory), T(actile). “T” refers to the sensing of pulses from the wrist by a skilful physician to analyze the body characteristics. Our goal is to develop an electronic system based on Internet to exercise these four procedures, VVAT, bi-directionally between a patient in North America and a physician in Hong Kong or in the southern part of China Mainland. State-of-the-art technologies could be modified to accomplish the first three procedures: VVA. But up to now, there is nothing available in the world to fulfill the last one: T. That most difficult part is what has to be intensively researched and developed.

Deliverables

The investigators will collaborate with two famous Chinese herbal physicians in Hong Kong and one electronic technologist to develop the method and technologies of VVAT. A prototype will be available within eight months from the date of receipt of the full grant. Two more months are needed for testing the effectiveness and accuracy of it, and any necessary enhancements that need to be made.

CLOUD BUSTING TECHNOLOGY ALLEVIATES DROUGHT IN MONTANA

It has been within man's capability to significantly modify the weather since Wilhelm Reich's remarkable discovery of a simple apparatus that he called the "cloudbuster", a device consisting of long metal tubes "grounded" into water. Through an understanding of the energetics by which the device works and a knowledge of both the classical and the "orgone energetics" of the atmosphere a cloudbuster operator can cause clouds to disperse or attract to each other. In the latter case, large rainstorms can be created and engendered to drop precipitation over an area of many square miles centered upon the location of the operation. I have done this working alone and in collaboration with others in synchrony many dozens of times in the U.S. and abroad over the past fifty years. A network of operators provide cloudbusting services throughout the United States to help alleviate drought, and are able to provide services in drought stricken areas overseas as well.

WISE International HQ: 4401 Roland Ave., Suite 405, Baltimore, MD 21210

A case in point is Matt Ryan from Northern California who works both with the network and independently. In the latter case, other members of the network may conduct supporting operations depending upon the need and circumstances. Matt is identified as the cloudbuster operator in an independent video circulating on the web, which describes the recent drought condition in Montana and Matt's attempts to alleviate it. That video, Next Year Country, artfully and sympathetically gives us the plight of farmers in this huge part of Montana that has had sparse rain through the entire year. The grim reality of the situation is brought to us through interviews with some of the farmers and their wives. They engaged Matt for a fee to help make it rain, which Matt was able to do using the cloudbuster technology and his many years of knowledge of ergonomic science, the weather, and the region. The link below will take you to a synopsis and details about the full film, which hopefully will be available in the near future: <http://www.nextyearcountry.com/> For anyone needing services to help alleviate drought in any part of the US or elsewhere, please contact Dr. Blasband at the email below.

WISE Related Journals Update

Some of you have expressed concern that you have not been able to find the names of the various journals that are listed under each of the WISE Divisions in any online or printed reference sources. We are glad you have not, because all of the journals listed are brand new online journals that are being developed by a private publishing company, which will begin publishing the first issues in the near future. WISE is not the publisher of these journals, but will assist WISE and SSE members in getting their articles published much more quickly and with less bias and fewer rejections than researchers and writers on anomalies subjects have faced in the past.

This is all explained on the WISE website, but may have been missed by some members. The publishing company obviously did not want to use the names of journals that are already being published, so they tried to develop unique journal titles, and apparently have been successful. And that is why you will not be able to find any references to these journals online or elsewhere until they start publishing.

These journals will soon begin publishing the accepted articles that you have been submitting to journalarticlesunlimited@gmail.com , and when the online publishing website is up and running, you will be able to submit your articles directly online . In the meantime, WISE urges you to continue to submit your articles to this email address for review, so that they can be the first to be published in the new online journals.

You may submit any and all articles you have written, but which have never been published, or which you have permission to republish. These may be new and recently written articles that have never been submitted for publication before. Or they may be articles that have been rejected by biased "standard" journals; or papers you have presented at meetings and conferences; or revised papers that you submitted for graduate or undergraduate courses at your college or university; or papers that you have written in the past, but which you just never got around to submitting for publication.

In addition, you may also submit for publication revised and expanded blog postings or postings you have made to discussion groups or mailing lists, where you would never receive any publishing credit. But you will certainly receive publishing credit when you publish these revised postings as articles in WISE related journals, and you will be able to include these published articles on your resume and CV.

Also, please note that your articles may be essays, opinions, or theoretical, and need not be formal scientific or medical studies, and they may be as short as one page or even less. Many articles that are listed and cited in the most famous databases and indexes, such as PubMed, Web of Science, PsycINFO, or Inspec are less than one page, and are just letters to the editor. So please submit your articles regardless of length. It is not the length, but quality that counts, and you may have a brilliant idea that can be expressed in a half page article, with more substance than is found in some five or ten page articles.

BOOKS WANTED

John Reed wants to purchase two books, both written by William R. Corliss. Those books are:

- 1) Unfathomed Mind—A Handbook of Unusual Mental Phenomena
- 2) Strange Life – A Sourcebook of the Mysteries of Organic Nature, Volume B-1

If you have either of these books, please contact John at: joreed43@yahoo.com with the price you want. Thank you.

William R. Corliss Books and Other Items Still Available from The Sourcebook Project

Most of the amazing reference books on scientific anomalies that William R. Corliss wrote are still available new, directly from The Sourcebook Project at prices much less than what you would have to pay at Amazon.com, new or used. Get them now while they still last. Send your check or money order in US dollars to: The Sourcebook Project, P.O. Box 107, Glen Arm, MD 21057 USA. US customers, please add $2.00 for shipping with orders under $30.00. Shipping is free for US orders over $30.00. Foreign customers, please add $2.00 per book ordered. ## Collections of Anomalies Books, Periodicals, and Papers Wanted for Preservation and Research

Do you know of any defunct or inactive anomalies organizations or periodicals, or were you perhaps a leader, member, editor, or subscriber yourself? Hundreds of anomalies organizations and periodicals have come and gone over the years, and many of the records, papers, and anomalies literature collections that these organizations and periodicals maintained are at risk for being lost, and in some cases have already been lost forever. Tax deductible donations of such literature are encouraged, but WISE stands ready, willing, and able to purchase such items, if necessary, to prevent their loss.

The Institute for Scientific Exploration (WISE) has established an Anomalies Literature and Papers Preservation Program (ALPPP) and needs your help in tracking down the former leaders of any defunct organizations and periodicals you know about. We need your help, because we want to preserve these collections so they will not be lost, and so they can be used for research purposes. So if you know of any leaders or editors of defunct anomalies organizations or periodicals, please email WISE at: iseresearch51@gmail.com, because only with your help can we preserve this important anomalies literature. This literature will be preserved in the National Library for Anomalies and Unexplained Phenomena (NLAUP), headquartered in Baltimore, and at its various branches around the US and overseas. Thank you for any help you can provide.

Information Wanted about the Smithsonian “Secret Warehouse.”

Do any of you know anything about the legendary “Secret Warehouse” maintained somewhere by the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.?? Legend has it that this is where the Smithsonian stores all of the anomalous artifacts and technologies that don’t fit well with accepted theories of archaeology, human history, evolution, and other current scientific paradigms. An anonymous WISE benefactor is funding the WISE “Smithsonian Secret Warehouse Project” and is offering substantial money for leads and other information about the existence of this warehouse, either for or against. Please write to WISE at the following email address if you know anything about this: iseresearch51@gmail.com , because with your help, one of the enduring mysteries of modern times can be solved.
